William Lulu

William Lulu formerly of Homestead, FL, transferred from Mt. San Jacinto College in California. His stats include 65 tackles in 10 games, including eight stops for a loss with 1.5 sacks in 2016.

William was a former Le Jardin student and went on to become a high school football player and wrestler. Upon graduation he attended North Carolina Central University as a linebacker.

William's mother Rosario Ruiz was a single parent who spent much of time at Le Jardin in the classroom as a parent volunteer. Rosario was employed with Le Jardin as a substitute back in 2001, During the time her son was attending Head Start, Rosario began her career journey, with the assistance of Le Jardin, by obtaining a FCCPC and then went on to get her National CDA in preschool. Rosario then continued her educational track by earning her Associate Degree in Early Childhood and a teacher assistant. William's teachers recall that he was a leader and extremely athletic.

William makes a point of visiting Le Jardin while he is in town, inspiring our children to do their best.
